

2011-02-14

PRESS RELEASE

---

National Bank launches new jobsite

The National Bank is an attractive employer. In order to point up what it has to offer, the Bank has decided to launch a website devoted especially to employment. Thanks to its modern, trendy style, this site is primarily targeted at young people. Staff members who have recently joined the Bank share their own experience on it, so as to give people interested in a job at the NBB an idea of what it entails, as well as the working atmosphere within the walls of the NBB.

All information needed for striking up contact with the Bank is conveniently arranged. The website describes areas of work in which new staff are regularly needed. Apart from those trained in economics and law, the Bank is always looking for IT staff to help with major projects importants using the latest technology.

The Bank has both permanent and temporary jobs on offer, falling under various employment contracts. The terms and conditions include an attractive salary along with a wide-ranging benefits packages, with facilities for a flexible work organization. New employees get plenty of opportunities to develop and perfect their skills. Missions abroad are among those opportunities.

All job offers include a description of the tasks involved and the profile sought. You can actually apply for a job straightaway. Thanks to a clear and concise form, it will only take a few minutes to fill in and send the questionnaire. The Bank will then contact all candidates as soon as possible.

jobs.nbb.be